

Triumph Band Instruments

Columbus, Ohio

- 1900 Otto Burt Heaton (1885-1960) starts working at the Puntenney & Eutsler Music store, Columbus
  - 1909 P&E advertises they manufacture the Triumph band instruments and the Triumph model trombone; Heaton later claims he was the designer (photo 3 is Triumph Alto horn #134, Horn-u-copia.net)
  - 1910 census lists him as a sales manager for music store
  - 1911 Heaton buys out the P&E store in August; #231 N. High St.
  - 1913 Otto B. Heaton Co., Otto & brother Wert Heaton, pianos, music and manufacturers of the "Triumph" band instruments at their factory, office & sales at #231 N. High; James Puntenney & son James Jr are now with the Moore & Johnson Co., pianos, #172 S. High St. (directory)
  - 1915 Heaton's Music Store, #231 N. High, makers of Triumph band instruments (dir)
  - 1917 move to #168 N. High St. (dir)
  - 1918 passport application lists him as piano dealer
  - 1920 census lists him as music dealer
  - 1926 move to #33 E. Long St. (photo 2)
  - 1931 move to #78 N. High St., 4 story building, selling Conn band instruments (no mention of Triumph)
  - 1945 move to #50 N. High St. (dir)
  - 1959 store is closed in September
- Triumph cornet below & right bottom from auction sale

